"Trust in Sue, as she gets some fantastic pictures when you really don't think it is possible." Nicola, Bishop's Stortford

Hello

I'm Sue Kennedy, a professional photographer based in Harlow, Essex and I specialise in baby and child portraiture. Being a parent, I understand just how special your child is to you and my aim is to produce a collection of images that are natural and meaningful to your family. No two moments are ever the same and I want to perfectly capture those early precious memories and the natural character of your child.

My studio is located in the beautiful surroundings of Parndon Mill set in visually stunning grounds where we can shoot baby-friendly indoors, or more adventurously outdoors when photographing older children and families.

I am a qualified member of the prestigious British Institute of Professional Photography and the Master Photographers Association, meaning that your whole family is in safe hands.

The experience

For me, Sue Kennedy Photography is all about families making memories, having a sense of belonging and leaving lasting photographic legacies through creative and timeless baby and child photography.

Having photographed over 1,000 bumps, newborns, babies and children, the families that I work with know exactly how passionate I am about the special journey from womanhood to motherhood and beyond.

It's my job to create for you a timeless collection of images that are natural and meaningful, perfectly capturing the emotion, character and cheekiness for your children.

“We would highly recommend Sue she is so professional, amazing with children and had such great ideas. We were truly amazed by the photos and has such a nice time in the studio and outdoors. Would recommend using Sue Kennedy to everyone :-)” - Laura P, Gilston

Maternity

A G R O W I N G S E E D O F L O V E

Sue Kennedy Photography will help you document this exciting transition from pregnancy to motherhood through to the birth of your child; your images will display the natural beauty of the female form in pregnancy. Your maternity images display the love parents have for their child long before its birth and together with your newborn images complete the beautiful experience. You control how much of your body to wish to show and whatever you decide, your photographs will be simply beautiful.

Kids

CHASING ALL THE HAPPINESS, FUN & JOY

When older children are part of the session, talk to them about it ahead of time, and perhaps try a pretend photo session at home to help them relax and overcome shyness. It's also a good idea to set your appointment at the time of the day when younger children are well rested. Bring your child's favourite toy and an extra change of clothes. Let me know, as your photographer, about things that make your child laugh that will help everyone to enjoy the session.
